

Call for submission to the
Printing and Graphics Science Group Prize 2009

The award comprises a certificate and a prize of £300.

The Printing and Graphics Science Group of the Institute of Physics will present an annual prize to an individual or organisation that has contributed a significant theoretical or practical application of physics in the area of Printing and Graphics Science.

The winner will be invited to present their work and receive their prize at the Group Student Conference on 1st December 2009.

Applications for the prize should be submitted in the form of a brief summary of the work in English, by 9th September 2009 to ruth.montgomery@npl.co.uk

The PGS group home page may be found at <http://pgs.iop.org>