

British International Schools Affiliation Scheme

The Institute of Physics is a leading scientific membership society working to advance physics for the benefit of all. One of our core aims is to secure a flourishing future for physics, and to this end we offer an Affiliation Scheme to support physics in schools/colleges in the UK, Ireland and British International Schools abroad.

As a British International School you will receive:

- Classroom Physics newsletter 4 x year and accompanying e-shots, with information about events, resources and training, as well as teaching tips and practical ideas
- Physics World magazine monthly, keeping you in touch with developments in physics as well as providing inspiration for your students
- Online access to Physics Education. A journal published six times year, containing articles about teaching physics, news, teaching tips and reviews of textbooks and software
- Discounts on Institute conferences and events
- Resources including posters and careers material produced by the Institute and other organisations
